NEW LIFE LAUNCHES NEW CORPORATE WEBSITE

Mount Laurel, New Jersey – New Life Management & Development, Inc., a national consulting firm specializing in planning, developing, marketing and management of high quality retirement living communities, announced the launch of a new corporate website.

According to Bill Lynch, Director of Business Development, “The newly created New Life website follows the introduction of our corporate video, brochure and conference exhibits. We designed the new site to coordinate with our corporate imaging and offer our clients and industry friends an informative site that’s easy to navigate. Our website also allows visitors to access and review our New Life video. Plus, visitors can review our experience, services we provide, our company history, biographies and pertinent information that’s important to organizations who are planning a new community, expanding mission or services, or looking to rejuvenate an underperforming facility,” Lynch added.

The new site will be updated frequently with press releases, corporate announcements and a wealth of industry information. It’s another way for New Life to better serve our clients,” Lynch concluded.
